

WHILE the country at large seems to have "went" like Maine used to, "hell bent for Gov. Kent," it is consoling to know that Kentucky is redeemed and that government by assassination is repudiated. The democratic electors and Gov. Beckham win by safe majorities, while all the democratic nominees for Congress, except in the 5th and 11th districts, go in by good majorities. The worst feature of the result is the election of O'Rear to the appellate bench, as it gives the court to the republicans, who always decide on partisan lines. Constituted as it will be the court will doubtless interfere in behalf of the Goebel assassins, but it is a dead sure thing that none of them or those who conspired with them will be pardoned, after a court of competent jurisdiction heard the evidence and passes judgment on them. O'Rear is not of the timber of which appellate judges should be made of, though perhaps he sizes up fairly well with the others that the republicans have upon the bench of the highest court in the State, and is fully able and willing to do the bidding of his party. This is the dark lining to the silver cloud that overhangs the State, but even with it we can give heartfelt and continual thanks that law and order will prevail in Kentucky, and that assassins will get their deserts at the end of ropes. Taylor hasn't been hanged yet, but he will be. The republican party has already been damned. For which and for all other blessings let us give thanks and be joyful.

LORD ROBERTS telegraphs from South Africa a severe reprimand to the London people for celebrating the return of the troops by causing them to get on a rousing drunk. There will be no occasion for anything of this kind when our troops come home from the Philippines. Their canteens have been so well supplied with red liquor they will have no desire for further indulgence.

THE paramount issue with McKinley after March 4th will be to impress upon Teddy that the vice president only performs the president's duties "in case of the removal of the president from office, or his death, resignation or inability to discharge the powers and duties of said office." Teddy will be certain to maintain that the inability clause demands his services.

JOHN WANAMAKER put up $50,000 in advance of the election to be used in detecting frauds. John has had a great contempt for modernized elections since Quay snowed him under so badly in Pennsylvania, but this same John obtained a seat in the cabinet a few years back by helping to purchase the presidency. Frauds are all right with John, if he wins, but horrible if he loses.

STRANGE to say the Philippine commission has not yet cabied over the news that the insurrection has subsided. That was to be the first thing on docket after McKinley's election, but we presume that since the campaign is over, the commission will not be so prodigal with messages costing $187 per word.

SOME people are more glorious in defeat than others in victory. For example, Wm. J. Bryan, the private citizen, is the idol of the best element of American people, while they have a profound contempt for Emperor Wm. McKinley, the creature and tool of the money power.

THE election is over, the result has been ascertained and there is little use of prolonging the controversy. Let us all now go to work and try to restore the loss to our pocket books that result of business during the long drawn out struggle has occasioned.

JOHN MASON WILLIAMS was nominated for Congress because the republicans thought he had a barrel to put in the campaign, but it proved to be the wrong kind of a barrel, and besides it required it all to keep John Mason himself straight.

THE Danville News advertises its rooster for sale. Surely that heretofore rock-ribbed democratic paper doesn't intend to leave the party of roosters, law and order and go to that of log cabins, assassination, etc.

THE cartoonists and paragraptists should make up a pony purse and purchase a present for Hanna. He has been to both an inexhaustible subject and deserves some evidence of appreciation.

HANNA says he does not want to be president after his present term expires. Two terms are enough for him. He is hardly as much of a hog as we thought he was.

MEDEL JOACHIM, of New York City, dropped dead just after he had voted. He evidently supported McKinley and Teddy.

HANNA must have a place in the Hall of Fame.

THE money of the trusts and combines, with their millions judiciously handled by Hanna, was too much for democracy, and its matchless leader goes down in defeat. It is a sad commentary that money should outweigh principle and that the dollar should be held above the man. McKinley will regard the result as a complete endorsement of his policy, and imperialism and militarism will be given free course.

WE can possibly stand four more years of McKinley, but thank God we don't have to stand three years of Yerkes, with the assassination crowd in the saddle. The people have spoken and there is no mistaking their meaning. Assassination will not continue as a means of government in Kentucky and assassins will have their necks broken.

THAT Philippine insurrection, the republicans have been telling us, has only been kept up by the hope of Bryan's election. As the sustaining cause has been removed, let them put down the insurrection at once, bring the soldiers home and repeal the stamp act.

TAYLOR and the other fugitives from Kentucky will still find refuge in Indiana, provided the governor-elect is as regardless of his oath as Mount, which God forbid. The Hoosier State remains in the republican column.

EX-SPEAKER KEIFER, of Ohio, lost his vote because he failed to register properly, but as it turned out, the speaker's vote was not required to settle the question.

BRYAN has been of great benefit to his country in one particular. He caused barrels of money to be put in circulation.

MCKINLEY owes his election not to the will of the sovereign people, but to the purchasing power of the almighty dollar.

THERE was one great consolation in the presidential election. There was no suspense over the result.

THERE was a land-slide, as we predicted, but it slid the wrong way.

It's mighty hard to down money.

ELECTION ECHOES.

Gilbert carried Spencer by 594. Anderson went democratic 338. McKinley got 292 and Bryan 155 electoral votes.

Danville voted 405 to 65 for the sewerage system.

Bryan carried this district by 1,026 and Beckham 876.

The fusionists in Nebraska may send Mr. Bryan to the Senate.

Bully for Boyle. She only gave Yerkes the slim majority of 64.

Wall Street gamblers won and lost over $2,000,000 on the election.

Hon. South Trimble's majority over Stoll in the Seventh is over 3,000.

Williams carried Rockcastle by 623, a republican loss of 93 compared with 1899.

It is charged that the republicans telegraphed to the 11th district to keep back the returns until notified to send them.

Garrard didn't do so well. Her republican majority of 274 don't sound good a bit.

Two men were killed and four were seriously wounded in an election row in Denver, Col.

Hon. G. G. Gilbert's majority isn't far short of 1,000, but it should have been many times that.

The full vote of Pulaski gives McKinley 4,658 and Bryan 2,129. Yerkes' majority in the county is 1,881.

Crocker, the Tammany boss, telegraphed Mr. Bryan as follows: "We are defeated, but not discouraged."

Hon. G. G. Gilbert carried his own county, Shelby, by 882—nearly 100 more than the other democratic nominees.

When Berry Howard heard that Beckham had been elected he shouldered his Winchester and left Pineville in a hurry.

Mr. Bryan received the news early in the evening at his home in Lincoln. He did not wait for definite news, going to bed early.

The ballot book for Jeffersonville, a democratic precinct in Montgomery county, was stolen but another was furnished in time for the election.

The new Senate will consist of 49 republicans, 27 democrats and nine independents, with three Legislatures, electing five Senators, still in doubt.

Gov. Beckham says: My election is a certainty. I place my majority at over 7,000. There is no chance to "pad" the 11th enough. I am surely elected.

This is what Hanna said: "It is a veritable republican landslide. It is even better than we expected, especially in Indiana and Nebraska. The general result is indeed most gratifying."

And the Brownies, where, oh, where were they? Perhaps they did the proper thing by going off and drowning themselves. Leastwise they do not appear to have been in anything but the soup.

Millionaire Clark won his contest for Senator in Montana. It looks like Quay has triumphed in Pennsylvania. Pettigrew, of South Dakota, is done for. The Colorado Legislature will cook Wolcott's goose. Delaware will elect two republican Senators.
